I LOVE YOU SO MUCH

In the deepest parts of my lonely heart

Love has been left by a young beauty

On the verge of the hard age of love.

Victorious of my saddened heart

Entered by the light of your complexion

You are the impetus of my reflection

Only a mutual understanding can save our love

Uniting us under the sign of the white dove

So sweet and so peaceful

Only your smile so cheerful

Makes me feel so good in the heart

Under the unbearable power of love

Colonizing my thoughts like an army

Hidden into the grooves of my lonely heart.
